

City Mail Delivery Is Now Being Studied

A movement has been started to secure free mail delivery service in Canyon. The inspector who was here last week is making a survey to get the opinion of patrons of the local office as to their opinion. Letters were requested from patrons as to whether or not they would favor such service.

Backing up the request for free mail delivery service is a large group of elderly persons who are not able to come to town when the weather is bad. According to information received here, Canyon is the only first class post office in Texas without free delivery service.

According to a report from the local office, there are no boxes available, and 200 of the 703 boxes are being used by more than one person or family. At the present time there are 130 families receiving their mail by general delivery. Most of these would be eliminated if there were boxes available.

Station 1 has not taken care of the situation. There are 595 boxes at this station, with most of them rented. Whether or not this station would be eliminated if free delivery was started is a question yet undecided.

To offset the advantages of free delivery, it is pointed out that local postage would be increased from two to three cents on all letters mailed to Canyon citizens. This would increase the postage of all business institutions of Canyon.

Local citizens would be required to put in sidewalks to the curb; number houses; and put up mail boxes.

One delivery per day would be made. With the mailman starting from the office about 9 o'clock in the morning, all mail which arrives during that day would not be delivered until the following day. No deliveries would be made on Sundays or holidays. Those who maintain boxes could not have mail delivered to their homes or business houses during the week.

Air Filled With Dust Result of Sunday's Blow

The weather Sunday! The less said the better off our feelings shall be about the dust which filled the air during the day.

The center of the duster was south of Canyon, so we are told, but it was plenty bad in Canyon. Not a great amount of farm land was blowing, according to those who have had a chance to examine the results of the blow. But the air was filled with dust—the same kind of dust which filled the air during the famous dust bowl days.

Three Local Men Attend Highway 60 Convention

G. B. Heath, Roy Childers, and Glenn Waggoner attended the U. S. National Highway 60 Association convention in Hereford last week. The convention was held in the Jim Hill Hotel last Wednesday and Thursday. G. B. Heath is local director to the Highway 60 Association. Roy Childers is the concessionaire at Buffalo Lake, and Glenn Waggoner is secretary-manager of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce.

Waggoner reported the visitors had luncheon Wednesday with the Hereford Lions and enjoyed an unique show. The show was two tourist couples who had been picked up by Hereford city policemen on Highway 60. They were treated to luncheon, interviewed, dined and given a number of nice gifts by various merchants in Hereford. During this time the two cars were being washed, greased, and filled with gasoline absolutely free. The couples were seen in Canyon on Thursday morning.

A welcoming address by Hereford's Mayor S. O. Wilson started the afternoon session rolling. A talk stressing congeniality and pleasantness to tourists by businessmen along Highway 60 was heard at this session.

On Thursday there were reports by directors and committeemen, and officers were elected. Glenn Waggoner was chairman of the nominating committee.

One of the important factors brought out by the convention was the breakdown of the tourist dollar. It was shown that 41 cents of the tourist dollar are spent for food and lodging, 25 cents goes to retail stores, 20 cents for gasoline, oil and repairs, 6 cents for soft drinks, and 8 cents for some form of amusement.

Some of the accomplishments of last year's Highway 60 committee were mentioned. This group promoted the highway by placing seven large billboards from Eastern Oklahoma, across the Panhandle of Texas, and all the way to the western part of New Mexico.

The signs read "Stick To 60" and were for the purpose of encouraging and promoting more tourist travel on this highway. The committee also plans more publicity and promotion of the highway this year.

City Dads Have Traffic Trouble

One of the problems of the City Commission and local police department is the flow of traffic about the square. An official said last week that problems centered around folks parking in alleys, double parking, and not observing center parking areas.

Main cause for the traffic snarl is said to be the greater number of cars on the street today. The objection to parking in alleys was that most cars are left in a position that blocks the alley. This could be dangerous in case of a fire or some other emergency which required passage through the alley.

Double parking slows down the traffic about the square. Another factor said to be causing a traffic problem is parking in the center of the streets about the square. Too many people do not observe the lines drawn for the parking space. They park in haphazard positions so that moving traffic must weave about the parked cars.

The official said the cooperation of all the motoring public was needed to eliminate these traffic problems.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

A Few Observations As The Days Roll By . . .

It is remarkable — most remarkable. So many things are happening these days in such rapid succession, but none of the problems have come to the final settlement stage.

If and when final settlement comes along, the world will be in much better condition. Maybe.

We were thrilled the other day to hear that President Eisenhower has definitely refused to take any kind of action in the Rosenberg case. We hope that no person in Randall county has become so sympathetic over the two friends who would have killed off the young men of this nation for the benefit of the mad men who are running the affairs of Russia.

As the President pointed out, thousands of men, women and children may lose their lives because of the action of these two persons who sold or gave atomic bomb secrets to the Reds. Just why any American citizen should become sympathetic toward such people is hard to understand. Yet, there are a few square heads in every community who profess to be against capital punishment for such persons.

Along the same line we were amazed the other day to hear the argument of a lawyer before the pardons board. His client faces death in the electric chair for having taken the life of another. He was convicted for his crime by a jury of 12 men, who were legally chosen. The courts upheld the sentence of death, which is tough enough in Texas.

This lawyer argued that no court could master a jury of 12 men who had not made up their minds previously simply on the ground that the case had been so thoroughly covered by the newspapers of the city where the crime was committed. The lawyer either charged that the jurors were dishonest, or he preferred ignorant men for jurors.

We are not convinced that all lawyers would muzzle the press of the nation because the bar is fearful of the influence of the press; but here is one lawyer who speaks out against the press and would muzzle the press in order that the murderer whom he represented might go free. The lawyer, quite naturally, did not argue that he himself might be the next victim of this killer. The fellow who was doing the arguing seemed to fear that he was over and above the scope of the killer who was likely to send a bullet crashing into the brain of a second or maybe a third victim if he was set free to roam and kill at will.

Besides this, just why should any lawyer in any city of any state feel free to criticize the press of his community for printing the news of the community? The people of that community would have gazed in wonderment at the papers of the community had they refrained from printing a single word of the crime in which one killer was arrested, tried and convicted for taking the life of another.

The lawyer failed to restore the life of the victim whom his killer client had taken. He failed to heal the wounds of the parents, and relatives of the victim. He failed to wipe out the tragedy which had been imposed on the good name of the community.

Yet he would have kept the people of the community in blissful ignorance of the presence of a killer in their midst. A killer whom he was attempting to set free because his family objected to having the good name of the family seared as the result of the crime.

This lawyer in seeking to muzzle the press is in the same class with others who are willing to damn the influence of the press to hades because publicity fails to suit their methods of operation.

"We asked for it, so why all of this political hubbub?" asked a cattleman the other day in discussing the decline in cattle prices.

Cattlemen throughout the nation have long objected to the government plan of subsidies and benefits and controls. They want to be left free to do as they please in the operation of their own business.

For political purposes, several Democratic members of Congress are demanding that Secretary Benson restore price controls for the benefit of their clients. As a matter of fact they do not want controls, but think that advocating such controls in the face of declining prices may have some good political results; that is, political preference for the Democrats.

During the campaign, candidate Eisenhower promised if elected he would abolish controls. President Eisenhower carried out his declaration, first freezing the employment of governmental agencies which in the past have been in the habit of transferring men from one department which goes out of existence to another, thus keeping the individual on the payroll.

When any department folds by executive order now, the employees are out of jobs and must go back to civilian jobs. Perhaps a lot of these persons will be unable to make a living in civilian life after holding on to soft government jobs in Washington, but whoever heard of Washington, D. C., being the poor farm of unfit? Not until we started loading the government with broken down politicians under the Democratic administrations!!

The teachers of Texas will get a raise in salary. More than a thousand teachers flocked into Austin to appear before the Senate committee which heard their plea for more money. The bill was reported out unanimously for a $600 increase.

Where will the money come from? Who is going to pay this increased salary?

Governor Shivers advocates that wealthy districts divide with poorer districts. We do not see how such a plan will work, but perhaps the Governor can see farther into the future than we can.

The hard facts are that when an injustice must be worked out against any group of people, action must be taken to correct this evil. The teachers of Texas have long been the victims in the vicious circle which wants to hold down taxes regardless of results.

In spite of growing demands for better schools, the question of better teachers has been kicked aside. Texas cannot hope to have better schools unless we are willing to pay for better schools. Better teachers will bring better schools, and increasing salaries is the only means of improving schools and teachers.

And while we are talking about schools, let us remind you again that Canyon MUST build another school plant in order that the increased number of pupils may be taken care of in the future. Committees of citizens are now considering all of the angles of this proposed building. By the end of this school year it is planned to have completed plans drawn for the erection of an adequate school plant. Let us remind you that whatever we build now will not be adequate for many years. Unless we grow, we shall deteriorate.

Naturally every person in the Canyon Independent School District expects Canyon schools to grow. Therefore it is of great necessity that we build, and build for the future.

The number of poll tax payments in Randall county is a good sign of civic interest in public affairs.

Last year there were 6,500 poll tax payments. This year the number has sagged to 4,200. But this reduction is far above the average payment of this area. Most counties failed to show a payment of more than 50% of the normal payment of taxes.

Poll tax payments in South Amarillo still continue to lead the county, with 2,245 poll taxes and 280 exemptions; with Canyon second with a total of 1,482, and an average list of more than 300 persons.

Why do all the organizations put on their drives for funds early in the year?

Here we have Uncle Sam tapping every citizen for all of the money they can dig up; with all of the civic and charitable organizations which depend upon public contributions making a raid upon the family funds.

Naturally every organization would like to know on January 1st the amount of money which will be available. But the Red Cross, March of Dimes, Heart campaign, Chamber of Commerce, and other organizations could certainly get together and stage monetary drives at some other time of the year than January, February or March when Uncle Sam is hitting so hard.

England, through diplomatic circles, still attempts to get into Uncle Sam's pockets. The English like the idea of living off the tax dollars which you pay in to support the government. But listen here:

Uncle Sam gave England 4½ billion dollars last year; but the British spent 4½ billions dollars for drink during the same time.

Furthermore, while the British lost a few men in Korea, fighting the Reds, while we were losing more than 110,000 young men and spending billions of dollars, the British continued to ship the Reds war materials in China, which materials were manufactured and forwarded to Korea to kill our men.

No wonder President Eisenhower told Secretary Dulles to go to Italy, France, and England and to tell them to get an army in the field within 75 days or we would cut off the flow of American dollars.

If the "Get tough policy" does not bring results, there is no hope for these nations against the Reds.

According to statistics there are 22 million pet dogs in America. Most of them are completely worthless, but they provide friendly playmates for a lot of children.

It is estimated that it costs about $175 million dollars for dog food, and $50 million for medicine for these pets, or pests, if you don't like dogs.

All of this in spite of the fact that there are millions of starving people in the world today. Of course there are many of these starving who would prefer to starve than to eat the food which we shipped to them. There are others who prefer death by starvation rather than live as respectable humans live in America.

And there are people starving in America who are too lazy to work for an honest living.

We hear that it takes all kinds of people to make up the world. But there are a lot of crazy folks in the outfit. (Including Joe Stalin & Co.).

Citizens of Randall county are urged to attend the Junior Livestock Show in Canyon Saturday. The sale will be held Saturday afternoon.

The boys who have animals for the show are up against a serious financial situation: They paid a high price for their stock; the feed which they have used cost a lot of money; they will sell on a declining market.

Therefore, if the boys are to stay in business and continue to break even the price for which the animals offered must be high and those who buy will probably lose some money on their animals.

The boys are deserving of aid in their projects.

"Too big for their britches" was an expression made famous by a Texas politician several years ago.

The expression is very fitting as applied to many state agencies. For several years The Canyon News has had to learn the hard way. We used to do a great amount of state printing until we bought our lesson at a very high price.

We have found that prices of state advertising is far below the cost of production, but the hard headed Board of Control sets prices.

The State Parks Board is another agency which has caused us a great deal of personal and private grief.

Now comes the Board of Water Engineers which says that the Canadian River Dam is impracticable, simply because one of the board members lives in Amarillo and is opposed to the project. Maybe it is, and maybe it is okay. We are not saying. But if the ten towns in the deal want to spend their money on the project, well and good.

The legislature, through Senator Grady Hazlewood, has a bill creating a separated water board to handle the situation, thus bypassing the state engineers.

Panhandle citizens who have watched the antics of the State Parks Board are again demanding a separate board for the management of the Palo Duro State Park.

They refuse to answer questions for fear of voiding their constitutional rights. Yes, sir, those commies who have been yanked up by various investigating committees sure believe in keeping mum.

It is charged that many commies are on the payrolls of our colleges. Whenever any person refuses to answer a simple question as to whether or not he is or has ever been a commie, he prejudices himself in the minds of sound Americans.

The Confederate veteran of 106 years, living in the home at Austin, now has 15 proposals for marriage.

Since it was announced that he was filing a suit for several million dollars in a Kentucky estate, the young gentleman has become very attractive to so many fair dames.

Old-fashioned cooks, we know, are still around. In fact, we're lucky enough, about five times a year, to eat some of the super-cooking they turn out.

As a rule, they're women who don't think the hours spent in the business end of the house are wasted. And although they won't ignore the modern quickies in food preparation, they could hardly be classed as packaged food addicts. A cake, to them, is a creation: sifting and re-sifting flour, using real butter, beating the stuff until their arms ache — and turning out a delicacy that melts in one's mouth. Soup? Not a canned 'get by,' but a subtly blended, slow-cooking masterpiece!

We used to bemoan the cook-books that were all written for such gourmets: aspic jelly that called for 10 or 15 ingredients; a three-day recipe for pickling peaches; an all-day session with chicken spaghetti. Always in a hurry, we couldn't see making a career of feeding eager faces. We snapped up every new short cut as it hit the market. We were pleased when recipe makers began to take speed into consideration.

Now we plead guilty to some doubts about the direction cooking has taken: frozen apple pies, frozen chicken dumplings, 20-minute rolls, canned biscuits. We realized how far this has gone when we read a cake recipe with a tantalizing name which we promptly forgot in the shock of reading the directions: Get a package of ready mix cake flour, pour in half a cup of milk, stir and bake. For topping add some ready prepared chocolate syrup to powdered whipping cream.

It was like a sneeze that doesn't come off. Surely the frustration of spending hours over a hot cook-stove is nothing to what happens to the old-fashioned cook in this age of packaged foods.

— George Washington — Farewell address.

Buffalo Masquer Officers Meet To Plan Future

Zelda Mae Walker, president of Buffalo Masquers, a drama club at West Texas State, had a brief meeting with the club officers after Tuesday night's play, "Sunset Boulevard." At the meeting the officers decided to get together Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock for more specific plans about the future of the Masquers.

Officers are Zelda Mae Walker, president; Pauline Allen Phillips, vice-president; Barbara Dunn, treasurer; Bonnie Hughes, secretary, and Lawrence Hunnicutt, reporter.

Friday's meeting will deal with facing the problems and duties of the club during the spring semester. Committees will be selected to carry on the club's activities. Future plays will be planned for presentation. Work is to be done on the club scrapbook, and planning for a social in the near future. Tentative date will be set some time next month.

Television Was Discussed Tuesday At Rotary Lunch

Kelly Maddox, program director of KGNC-TV, spoke Tuesday at the Rotary Club luncheon on the new program he will soon manage.

The first article on TV was written in 1892 by a reporter who described in detail what would take place.

The word "television" came into existence in 1900 when a Frenchman coined the word, meaning "for sight."

Mr. Maddox stated that he was not an expert on the subject. Television is changing so rapidly that no one has been able to keep up with it.

Knowledge is gained 98% through sight and hearing. Television combines sight, sound and motion.

Listeners were urged to explore the field as it develops. Within four weeks, if everything goes well, the first programs will be put over KGNC-TV. TV manufacturers were caught flat footed when the Truman administration lifted the freeze on stations, and applications were issued right and left. A temporary plant will go on the air, and if nothing happens the big plant will be completed and will be on the air by fall with a full program.

In the meanwhile radio will not be interfered with as a means of communication.

Visitors were: Joe Findley, Mitchell Jones, G. C. Cosby, Dale Killingsworth, Roscoe Davis, all of Canyon; Ivan Govech, Guy Carlander, Vern Gensemer, Lowell Mundy, Frank Haggood, Tom Cartwright, B. E. Walker, A. F. Folley, Van H. Allm, all of Amarillo; Bob Lindsey of Borger.

The combined team from Rotary and Lions will play the faculty in basketball at the field house for the benefit of crippled children.

Missions Emphasis Week Slated At Baptist Center

A "Missions Emphasis Week," March 27, will be held at the Baptist Student Center, according to the Rev. Howard Bramlette, director.

Most sessions, pointing up to mission work, will be held during the daily "Morning Watch Hour." The week will be climaxed March 6 when a group of WT Baptists plan to attend a missions conference in Fort Worth at the Southwestern Theological Seminary.

GI SURVIVAL ODDS

After a tour of Korea, Japan and Okinawa, Maj. Gen. George E. Armstrong, the Army's top surgeon, declared that soldiers in Korea "have a better chance of not being wounded — or of living if wounded" than fighters in any other comparable conflict. New treatments for the wounded are being used and the new armored vest protects the fighting men.

FOREIGN AID

The amount of foreign aid the House will approve will depend on the report of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Mutual Security Administrator Harold E. Stassen on Europe's efforts at self-help, according to Robert B. Chipfield, chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee of the House of Representatives.

ANGRY BURGLARS

Knoxville, Tenn. — After battering open a safe in a factory office, only to find it empty, angry burglars blew their tops. They left a note, reading, "Why didn't you leave some money in this thing?" In revenge, they set fire to some sawdust in the boiler room. Firemen found the note on top of the safe.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hinds and daughter of Greeley, Colo., visited this week with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Riggsby, and family.

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS
of the 18th Congressional District

The Formosa Question

Many news articles and columns have been written and many words have been spoken over radio and television in an attempt to analyze the statement of the President that he was issuing a directive withdrawing the 7th Fleet from its present assignment between the island of Formosa and the Red China coast.

Many of them have concluded that the end result will be an attack on the Red China coast by the Chinese Nationalist forces. As all of you know, I have long been a strong advocate of a policy of employing the Chinese Nationalist forces to the utmost of their abilities and to increase as much as possible their potentialities for operations against the Red legions.

I sincerely hope that the forces of Chiang Kai-shek can mount a major onslaught in the nature of an invasion force against Red China. However, I doubt that under the present circumstances such result will be realized within the near future unless a tremendous amount of aid is furnished by United States naval and ground forces.

The chances for a successful invasion by the Chinese Nationalist forces would have been much better had such invasion attack been a surprise attack. Many people here are wondering why advance notice should be given to the Red forces as to possible or probable military movements of the UN forces.

Certainly the Red Chinese would lose no time in setting up a formidable defense against a possible invasion force if they are given advance notice as to the general locality in which such invasion might be attempted. The setting up of such defenses would require less manpower and less withdrawal of troops from Korea than would be necessary if the Reds were forced to defend against a surprise attack.

If the Reds are going to be informed in advance of the possible or probable strikes of the UN forces, their need for espionage service will be reduced to a minimum. There have been suspicions that the Red forces have been obtaining vital information on troop movements through their member of the UN, to wit, Russia.

The recent uncovering of personnel in the UN with definite Red leanings would indicate that there might be some basis for some of the suspicions.

I recently called upon the State Department for an explanation of certain charges made in a magazine article to the effect that troop movements in Korea were being cleared through a division of the UN in which one Constatine Zinchenko, a Soviet citizen, occupied an important desk.

The State Department advised me that such was not the case and that the United States is in control of the actual conduct of operations in Korea in accordance with the general United Nations' principles and objectives; and further that the United States Government has not cleared and does not clear any proposed military movements or any directions to the troops with any organ of the United Nations or any person on its Secretariat. My question to the State Department and the State Department's answer received wide publicity and headlines in a number of Eastern papers. The matter was also treated in a Paris, France, newspaper, a clipping of which was recently forwarded to me by some friends of mine in the Canary Islands.

The Two Bills That Passed The House of Representatives on February 3rd: As most of you already know, the House passed and sent to the Senate the bill extending the Reorganization Act and giving President Eisenhower the same powers of reorganization that were held by the former President.

These were the powers requested by the President and about which I wrote in the newsletter last week.

After much wrangling on the Floor between the two factions on the Republican side of the aisle, the several amendments were offered and defeated. The bill was then passed in the form requested by President Eisenhower by an overwhelming majority, as it should have been.

Although I question the basic constitutionality of permitting the Executive Branch to legislate, as I pointed out last week, the new President is entitled to have the full support and cooperation of Congress in carrying out the wishes of the American people.

The other bill that passed the House was requested by Secretary of State Dulles. It created a new Under Secretary of State at a salary of $17,500 per year.

DEN TWO CUB SCOUTS PLAY GAMES AND LEARN SONG

Cub Scouts of Den 2 met at the home of their den mother, Mrs. E. W. Pettitt, Monday, February 9. The meeting opened with a 'washer toss' contest which was won by Billy Shea. The Cubs also learned a new Cub Scout song.

Games played by the Scouts were beanbag, baseball, 'In the Pond,' 'poison circle,' and stork wrestlers. They were led by den chiefs Alan Hanks and James Young.

Refreshments, furnished by Mrs. Cecil O'Donald, were served to members, Keith and Ronnie Brock, Troy Jim Fulcher, Debs Harris, Jimmy Dale Killingsworth, Dwight McGeehe, Frankie Joe and Truett O'Donald, Phil Pennington, Eddie Pettitt, Billy and Johnny Shea, and James Thrash.

The meeting closed with the 'living circle' and Ronnie Brock led in the Cub Scout Promise.

Music And Art Club Establishes Memorial For Miss Fronabarger

Located in the browsing room of the new library building is a shelf of music and art books dedicated to the memory of Miss Marie Fronabarger.

The shelf was originated by the Music and Arts Club of Canyon, of which Miss Fronabarger was a member up to the time of her death two years ago.

Miss Fronabarger taught in Canyon and Amarillo Elementary schools for a number of years. She was the sister of Dr. Ford Fronabarger, head of the English department at WT.

Music and art had been great interests of Miss Fronabarger. She was a fine performer on the violin and as a painter of no mean accomplishment, she had a vigorous talent for art.

The Music and Art Club thought it fitting that books dedicated in her memory should cover the two fields of art and music.

Each member of the club has donated a book to the shelf and the club plans to add one or more books each year as a club project. President of the group is Miss Matilda Gaume, assistant professor of music.

Friends of Miss Fronabarger are welcome to add books to this collection at any time.

As is the regulation with all books in the browsing room, the music and art books may be checked out for a period of two weeks.

Marriages in the United States during 1952 showed a four per cent decrease from the 1951 total. There were an estimated 1,540,000 marriages during the year as compared with the record high of 2,300,000 in 1946.

Red Cross Worker Explains Mail Delay

A letter of appreciation was recently received from the office of the Red Cross Field Director in Korea by the local Red Cross chapter here. The letter expressed gratitude for the fine work the Red Cross is doing at home. The particular phase pointed out was in regard to help given service men's families.

An explanation was also given in regard to the length of time required for mail to and from Korea. There are a great many hardships over there and lots of moving about. This makes it difficult for letters and packages to be delivered promptly.

Field workers in Korea move with the men in service and for this reason are just as difficult to contact. The letter closes with the explanation that Red Cross field workers in Korea know they cannot continue their work if it were not for the Red Cross workers in the United States.

NEWS LETTER

From Congressman WALTER ROGERS
of the 18th Congressional District

Up to this date there have been over 3,000 bills introduced in the House of Representatives and approximately 875 in the Senate during this session of Congress. However, so far, very few bills have come to the floor of either the House or the Senate for consideration.

The committees have been organized, and hearings on legislative proposals which have been given priority are now well underway. Following is a brief account of the hearings which are being held by some of the committees.

Ways and Means

This is the House committee which has jurisdiction of the tax bills. This committee has scheduled a meeting for February 16th for the purpose of voting on H. R. 1, introduced by Congressman Reed, of New York, who is Chairman of the Committee. His bill would reduce income taxes a maximum of 5½% this year and 11% annually thereafter.

It is very probable that the committee will approve H. R. 1. However, when the bill is approved by the Ways and Means Committee, it will next have to be cleared by the Rules Committee, and the Chairman of the latter committee, Congressman Allen of Illinois, is reported as having stated that his committee will hold up any tax reduction legislation until at least May 1st. Under the House rules, the Rules Committee, by a majority vote, can delay or kill a bill by refusing to clear it for floor debate.

House Judiciary Committee

This committee is scheduled to commence hearings on February 17th on the Tideland question. Among those who will appear at these hearings are the Attorney General, the Secretary of Interior and the Secretary of the Navy, who will represent the Department of Defense. As you know, the post of Secretary of the Navy is held by the Honorable R. B. Anderson, of Vernon, Texas.

Senate Banking and Currency Committee

This committee will begin hearings on February 24th on the question of extending economic controls. Senator Capehart, of Indiana, the chairman of this committee, has introduced a bill, S. 753, to authorize standby controls on wages, price, rent, production and credit. His bill would authorize the controls to be put into effect if an emergency should cause "serious economic dislocations threatening the national security and welfare." So far, the House Banking and Currency Committee has not scheduled any hearings on the extension of controls.

Education and Labor

The House Committee on Education and Labor has been hearing members of the House who have introduced bills in this session proposing amendments and revisions of the Taft-Hartley Act. So far, the committee has heard Congressmen Lucas of Texas, Byrd of West Virginia, and Keating of New York. On February 17th this committee plans to continue with three days of meetings in order to hear other congressional proposals to revise the Taft-Hartley Act.

Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare

The Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare has announced that it is its present intention to begin hearings on amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act during the first week in March. This committee has requested those individuals and groups who desire to propose amendments to the act to send their proposals to the committee by February 20th in order that study may be given to such proposals before the hearings begin.

House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee

This committee, of which I am a member, has scheduled a meeting for February 17th to consider several public lands bills which passed the House during the last Congress but which were not passed by the Senate.

Appropriations Committee

The Appropriations Committee of both the House and the Senate are delaying hearings on the 1954 fiscal year appropriations until the new administration submits its proposed amendments to the budget which was submitted to Congress by the outgoing administration. March 2nd has been set as the deadline for department heads to submit their budget requirements to the Director of the Bureau of Budget.

Mrs. Mary Burtz returned home Sunday after having spent a month on the South Plains. She spent some time in Ropesville caring for her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Fewell, who had undergone surgery. Then she visited with the O. V. Mayben family in Denver City and with Mrs. Ida Roberts and Mrs. Claude Fewell in Lubbock before returning.

Mrs. C. O. Elkins has returned from Lamar, Colo., where she has been visiting with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Inman, and young daughter.

Mrs. Jeff Wallace returned home last week after having spent 10 days in Albany visiting with her daughter and family, the Harold Blacks.

Scout Program Given at Lions Club Wednesday

District Scout Executive Jack Teague spoke to the Canyon Lions Club Wednesday about the importance of the Scout program. Other Scout workers present were J. A. Young and Charlie Morris. Young is Post 66 leader and Morris is assistant Scoutmaster.

Four Scouts were present to give the Lions a demonstration. They were Mike Hood, Mack Boswell, Roy Hunter, and James Johnson. Hood and Hunter gave a demonstration on the new method of artificial respiration. Johnson and Boswell showed the correct way of folding the flag. They also discussed courtesy to the flag, such as position with other flags, etc.

Some of the other Scout workers of the area were named. They are: Truett Hull, of the Southwestern Public Service Co., Strauss Atkinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Frank Kimbrough, head football coach at West Texas State College, Jack Jennings, owner of Jennings Dress Shop, and John Hunter of the West Texas Gas Co.

Dudley Bayne, head of the Cub Scouts, spoke of the people who were helping Cubs and Scouts to succeed in their work.

Lions visitors included Wilma Graham of Amarillo, W. B. Harris of Groom, in addition to the Scouts and Scout workers.

Two new members were also ushered into the Lions den. They were Major Charles Allen and George Stevens. They were presented to the club by Lion Emmitt Smith.

Governor Says Teachers Must Get More Pay

(NOTE: The Governor of Texas says our school teachers must have a cost-of-living increase in pay. The problem is finding the money. His plan, as presented to the Legislature recently, is outlined in a series of articles of which this is the last.)

By ALLAN SHIVERS
Governor of Texas

Is $600 a proper pay raise for our Texas teachers?

That is the amount they are asking as their first base pay raise since 1949. It would be an increase of about 25 per cent.

There is nothing more important in the view of us parents than the training of our children. I doubt that any competent teacher is ever really overpaid—or expects to be.

But, just as the 1949 salary scale for teachers is too low now, the $45 million ceiling contribution of local school districts to the minimum foundation program is no longer what it should be.

The State, instead of paying three dollars to one local dollar as under the original Gilmer-Aikin scale, is now making up the difference between one local 1949 dollar and as many 1953 dollars as are needed.

In other words, all of the increase upon the minimum foundation fund must be met by the State.

That can't go on without running the risk of increased State control of the public schools.

And, what is perhaps even more important, it can't go on without running the risk of a possible ceiling on State spending to maintain the minimum foundation program.

I mean by this that the Legislature at some time in the foreseeable future might decide that the State should fix a maximum guarantee for its own responsibility in the program.

What would that mean?

It would mean that the major burden of the steadily advancing costs of the Gilmer-Aikin program eventually could come to bear directly upon the local district. It would be the opposite of the present situation. This is not my suggestion, but it is a very definite possibility.

As I have told many of my teacher friends, and as I have said in previous articles of this series, I am not against the idea of a $600 raise.

As Governor I have to remember, however, that an increase of this size would cost the State more than 33 million dollars per year. And, as we consider the many imperative needs throughout the State, we are forced to decide what we can afford — and what we should do for others, as well as for the public school teachers.

What about a raise for our State senior and junior college teachers?

What of the nurses and other vital workers in our State hospitals?

Can we afford to forget our State law enforcement officers and our prison guards?

What about our thousands of other loyal State employees?

What can we do about larger State pensions for the old people of Texas?

There are many such deserving groups — none more deserving than our public school teachers, and yet none should be overlooked.

For all of these people, as well as for the rest of our citizens, it is important to keep our State financially sound. If that is not done, eight million Texans will reap the whirlwind.

For the immediate relief of our teachers I have proposed a plan by which they could receive a substantial raise without the necessity of increasing the State taxes.

Two steps are involved: (1) shifting of part of the per capita available school fund over to the Gilmer-Aikin fund so that the needy school districts can get more State assistance and the prosperous districts will not grow all the richer on State money, and (2) placing a fair share of the cost of the minimum foundation program on the local districts instead of leaving the local contributions at the 1949 level while the State pays more and more with each passing year.

What does the average classroom teacher in Texas make? A little more than $3,200 a year, according to records of the Texas Education Agency. And, while beginning teachers with a bachelor's degree are authorized to receive a minimum of $2,400 per year under the Gilmer-Aikin program, the actual average of such college-graduate beginners is around $2,530 for nine months' work.

I mention these figures because, while we often speak about the salary of new degree-holding teachers as a point of reference, actually there are not many teachers who make exactly $2,400. The pay scales of numerous schools are above the minimum, and of course our teachers quite properly get additional pay as they acquire more education and experience.

My recommendation to increase the contributions of the local school districts toward the Gilmer-Aikin program is based on the principle of local control. I believe the schools should continue to be run by the citizens of their own communities.

The public school system of Texas has been operated on this local control plan. Until recent years, the home school districts provided most of the financial support. By 1920 the first large appropriation for State assistance to rural schools had been made and the State per capita payments had been increased to $14.50. It was not until after World War II that these payments exceeded $30. Today they are $68. If we reduce the available school fund by $15 million, the per capita payment will go down to about $58.

Besides these payments based on number of students, the Gilmer-Aikin program, in operation since 1949, has cost the State additional millions of dollars each year in equalization aid.

This Gilmer-Aikin program, which guarantees the opportunity for a good education to every child of school age in Texas, is one of the great accomplishments in the history of education in our State. We should not take any backward steps. The plan should be permitted to function as originally intended: to underwrite a minimum standard program in every school.

We cannot overlook the fact that a $600 increase for each public school teacher — unaccompanied by any of the financing changes and revisions I have suggested — will mean that the Legislature now in session must raise at least $67 million in new State taxes for the next two years.

To put it another way, such an increase would use up nearly 40 per cent of the general revenue that is available for our State departments, colleges and universities, State hospitals, prisons, training schools and State courts.

The decision is one to be made by the Legislature, by the tax-paying public and by the teachers themselves.

Can we afford a $600 increase now? Can we afford not to grant it? Who will speak for the rest of those dependent upon State appropriations for the necessities of life? And who is going to pay the bill?

These are questions I have offered for your consideration during the last several weeks. If the net result has been to increase the public store of information and interest in public school financing, and in the overall problems of the State, at least part of the objective has been accomplished.

CHS Victorious Over Hereford

The Canyon Eagles clawed out an eight point victory over the Hereford Whitefaces Friday night to move one notch closer to district championship. Fans roared as the game progressed from quarter to quarter with the Eagles stubbornly clinging to a thin lead.

When the final period of play started the two teams were tied up at 27 points each. It was like starting a new game and the Hereford quintet showed new strength. This strength seemed to fade in rising emotion as the Eagles increased their lead.

Tommy Middleton made the first basket in the opening of the final quarter to give the Eagles a lead they never lost again. The free throws by Guy Hamblen, Dick Dawdy, Don McDonald, Lynn Williams, and Tommy Middleton kept the lead growing.

Once during the game the Eagles were 11 points ahead of the Whitefaces. This was the largest lead they held and it was soon trimmed to six by the Hereford quintet and only increased to eight points a few seconds before the game ended.

Before Friday night's game the Hereford team had won three conference games and lost one. Canyon had won two and lost one. Now with four conference games each the two teams are tied up with three victories and one loss each.

Inspections of State Find Markets Sell Only Good Meats

Spot checks of meat markets by the State Health Department meat inspectors insure Texas housewives that when they buy a pound of hamburger they're getting a product whose contents have been carefully defined by state law, declared Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

In revealing that more than 1,000 meat samples were collected last year for laboratory analysis from all sections of the state, Dr. Cox says that the food and drug inspectors have been ordered to increase the frequency of their inspections of community butcher shops in an effort to curb the sale of horsemeat as hamburger.

By state law, hamburger is defined as "chopped or ground fresh beef, with or without the addition of beef fat as such, and with or without seasoning, and shall contain not more than 30 per cent fat."

That definition, health officials say, makes it unlawful to add chemical preservatives or fillers such as cereals or skim milk.

It prevents unsuspecting housewives from paying ground beef prices for a high-fat content product, or one which has been doctored with inexpensive cereals. It protects the consuming public against a spoiled or adulterated product which could be hazardous to health.

More than 95 per cent of the meat products analyzed in state laboratories last year were hamburger. State law makes no distinction between hamburger and ground beef.

The 30 per cent maximum fat content of hamburger is a standard set by the Bureau of Animal Industry, and except for one or two exceptions is adhered to by all states. A similar maximum has been established for moisture content.

Twenty-six meat inspectors work under the jurisdiction of the Texas Health Department's bureau of food and drugs. More than one errant meat dealer can testify to their diligence.

Miss Erdman Will Leave for Europe

Wednesday, February 4. The Dallas Morning News published a long story about Miss Loula Grace Erdman, nationally famous author and teacher at West Texas State College. Here is the story as it was written by Marjorie Montgomery:

"Miss Loula Grace Erdman, Texas' prize winning author and teacher, will be off to England this spring on an enviable assignment."

"The twinkly eyed faculty member of West Texas State College in Canyon has been commissioned by Reader's Digest to do the story of the English people's happy acceptance of a new way of life."

"Miss Erdman will write of the heads-up way in which they are accepting the retrenchment and devaluation visited on their land."

"Former Texan Charles Ferguson, one of the senior editors of the Reader's Digest and a long time friend, gave Miss Erdman the idea for the story."

"While in England she will be one of the fortunate ones to see the coronation and to gather material for other stories on that historic event."

"Miss Erdman was a Dallas visitor Tuesday en route to a speaking engagement in Fort Worth."

"She will sail from New York March 18 to Italy, spend two months on the continent and then go to England in May. She will return for the annual writers conference in July, held at West Texas State College, where Miss Erdman teaches creative writing."

"In England she will be house guest of her English publisher and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hodder-Williams, in Bickley, Kent, about 30 miles from the heart of London."

"Miss Erdman joined the faculty of West Texas State College as a direct result of authoring two books on the teaching profession and on rural education, 'Separate Star' and 'Fair Is the Morning.'"

In 1946 her book, 'The Years of the Locust,' won the $10,000 Dodd-Mead-Redbook prize.

"She then contributed to Reader's Digest articles on 'I'll Stick To Teaching' and 'The Passing of the Small Town Central.'"

"Following her 1950 Texas novel, 'The Edge of Time,' Miss Erdman used the leftover research material to compile 'The Wind Blows Free,' a juvenile book which won the 1952 American Girl award."

"She contributes short stories to Woman's Day, Woman's Home Companion and Redbook, and two more of her novels are due on the bookstands soon. One is a companion piece to her other juvenile books, 'My Sky Is Blue' and the other an adult novel, 'Three at the Wedding,' will also appear in condensed form in Redbook in May."

"Her's is an ease and poise in living in spite of a full schedule of lectures, free lance writing, many friendships, and her chosen work of teaching. About the many directions her energy takes she says, 'I sometimes wonder if I'm doing any of it well.' She tends to make light of the acceptance her writings seem to find."

An incident involving her 1946 prize bears out the affinity she has to success.

"In a previous story contest she had won among other things the services of a literary agent. She submitted her 'Years of the Locust' to the agent for entry in the contest. The agent returned the manuscript unread, explaining she had no time to read it, but felt it unacceptable for the contest. Whereupon Miss Erdman entered the book on her own. It won her the first prize.

"Miss Erdman describes herself as a 'college tramp,' having attended college in Missouri, California, Wisconsin, and finishing at Columbia University."

W. S. C. S. MAKES STUDY OF INTERESTING PERSONALITIES

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met recently with Mrs. Clyde Warwick as leader of the program, "Unto This Day." She told of several outstanding people in the world whose lives had been influenced by our mission schools.

Mrs. W. D. Walker was leader of the meditation.

During the business session Mrs. Kenneth Goodman was elected as delegate to the Northwest Texas Woman's Society of Christian Service Conference held in Amarillo. Delegates registered at the San Jacinto Methodist Church yesterday morning and are attending the South Central Jurisdictional Conference at the Polk Street Methodist Church. A business meeting will be conducted Friday at the San Jacinto Methodist Church.

Several of the local members expect to attend as visitors.

The next meeting will be on March 3 when the Mission Study of Africa will start.

As another project recently the W.S.C. and the Wesleyan Service Guild sponsored a church-wide Bible study.

The text was "Toward Understanding the Bible" by Georgia Harkness. The teacher was Rev. Jim T. Pickens, director of Methodist student work at West Texas State College.

One of the results of this study will be to have the church open all day on Thursdays so that anyone who cares to may enter for meditation and prayer.

Such praise, coming from so degraded a source, was degrading to me, its recipient. —Cicero.

16 Concerts Set In Area Schools

Annual concert tour of the West Texas State Concert Band will open Monday night when the 65-piece organization, directed by M. J. Newman, presents in Hereford the first of 16 programs to be given in Panhandle cities.

All of the concerts will be given in high school auditoriums, and all are sponsored by the high school bands. Mr. Newman said. Second program will be presented in Tulsa next Thursday night.

The extended tour of the group begins Feb. 23, with the band appearing in three cities each day, except on Feb. 27, when its tour ends.

The schedule includes Amarillo, Memphis, and Childress, Feb. 23; Wellington, Shamrock, and Canadian, Feb. 24; Pampa, Phillips, and Panhandle, Feb. 25; Dumas, Stratford, and Texhoma, Okla., Feb. 26; and Perryton and Borger, Feb. 27.

Selections chosen by Mr. Newman for the tour include two outstanding ballads, composed especially for band, "Huntingtower" by Respighi and "Ballad for Band" by modern composer Morton Gould. The famed "1812, Ouverture Solenne" by Tchaikowsky, "Aria" from "Il Cid" by Sacchini, and the modern "futuristic" tone poem, "Theme for Tomorrow," by Sid Feller, make up the second part of the program.

Harry James' "Concerto for Trumpet" will feature Purris Williams, Hereford, and John Daymont, Childress, as soloists. Miss Doris Joens, Davenport, Iowa, will be soloist for the Strauss "Concerto for Horn, Op. 11," and the band's clarinet quartet will be presented in Grundman's "Bagatelle."

Last portion of the concert includes three Latin compositions, "Spaixico" by Fred and "St. Louis Cathedral" and "Congo Square" from Morrissey's "The French Quarter." Two "animal" pieces, "Bear Dance" by Bartok and "The Blue-Tail Fly" by Grundman, are included.

Five marches will also be included in the band's repertoire.

WARREN'S

Latest Rumors From Political Front of Nation

President Eisenhower is surprised to discover that the cost of war in Korea never has been provided for in the budget. The war has been fought on the theory that it would end soon and with weapons that, in many cases, had been promised to Europe or to the French in Indo-China or to Chiang Kai-shek on Formosa.

Britain's Winston Churchill and Anthony Eden told Secretary Dulles in private that they are not as panicky as they may have sounded about the order freeing Chiang to worry China's Communists. The alarm was for home consumption, as a means of undercutting the Socialists.

It will not be surprising to see the Nationalist Chinese Navy seize more foreign ships carrying war materials to the Communists on the mainland, now that the Navy is free to show what it can do.

Chiang Kai-shek expects that active U. S. backing for his Nationalist regime will have deep effect upon the attitude and actions of local leaders in South China. Opportunity for effective guerilla activity designed to interfere with vital railroad transportation is expected to grow.

Mr. Eisenhower is not pleased by the action of at least one high U. S. military official who went out of his way to indicate that end of the blockade against Chiang Kai-shek might not mean much. Three of the four U. S. Chiefs of Staff are on record as opposing General MacArthur when he long ago recommended the step that General Eisenhower has taken.

Harry Truman, former President, abruptly stopped his acid comments about all Eisenhower actions after his advisers suggested he should save something for his memoirs. They thought it would be better to document criticisms for later publication.

John Foster Dulles, Secretary of State, discovered in Europe that when he talked plain American language, which sometimes is harsh to ears of diplomats, the top officials of Europe had no difficulty understanding him. Some writers back in the United States had feared that Dulles talked too bluntly. When dollars are involved it's discovered that plain language is understood.

There is a growing view among Republicans in Congress that Britain and France have some real estate in which this country is interested — that they could exchange it for the billions of dollars in aid they are getting. The French island of New Caledonia, off Australia, is very interesting to this country and there are some British islands in the Caribbean area that are being eyed.

Diplomats and generals in U. S. are at odds over the need for British troops to guard the Suez Canal. The diplomats would like to please the Egyptians by agreeing to troop withdrawal, but the generals doubt if this is a time to take a chance on defense of a major trade artery.

Winston Churchill, Britain's Prime Minister, and Anthony Eden, Britain's Foreign Secretary who may succeed Mr. Churchill in the top job, differ in their attitude toward a European Army. Mr. Churchill, who once favored an outright union with France, now opposes a European Army and favors national armies. Mr. Eden is ready to commit Britain more firmly to the European Army concept.

Marshal Alphonse-Pierre Juin, commander of ground forces in NATO, is blaming the United States for the fact that Russian troops today stand only 93 miles east of the Rhine River. He argues that it was under U. S. pressure that Russians were allowed in Western Europe after World War II and that the U. S. owes it to Europe to provide the means to block Russia now.

A move, with substantial backing, is to be made in Congress to make it legal for U. S. gold mines to sell newly mined gold to anyone who will buy the gold in bar form, at whatever price the market will bring. The Treasury would stand ready to buy any gold offered at $35 an ounce, the same as now.

CASH DIVIDENDS
Cash dividends paid by corporations making public reports declined somewhat in December from a year ago, according to the Commerce Department, but, for the full twelve months of 1952, dividend payments were 2 per cent above 1951. Publicly reported dividends in 1952 amounted to $8,277,000,000.

PRESIDENTIAL PAY
Because President Eisenhower's expense allowance is subject to taxes, he will receive about $39,000 less than did President Truman. In all, his "take-home" pay will amount to $55,000, while President Truman received $94,000, after taxes.

BEEF PRICES
Lower meat prices this year were predicted because of the large quantities of beef now passing through the wholesale and processing stages and a drop in consumer demands, according to the Agriculture Department. It was estimated that inspected packers, in the first three weeks of this year, produced 503,000,000 pounds of beef, a gain of almost 20 per cent over the corresponding period of 1952.

SAVINGS BONDS
The United States Savings Bonds Division of the Treasury Department has reported that defense bond sales — the "E" and "H" variety — for 1952 amounted to $45,653,705. This was an increase of more than $5,000,000 from the $40,196,695 total for 1951, which included the "E" savings type only.

Tolls for ships passing through the Panama Canal during 1952 totaled $29,500,000, which was $2,500,000 more than for the previous twelve-month record high made in the fiscal year 1929. A total of 7,056 commercial ships passed through the Canal, exceeding by 532 ships the previous high.

Prices of farm land showed no significant change in the four months ended last November 1, according to the Agriculture Department. This was the first four-month period since the Korean war that prices did not rise.

Destruction Bugs

Are you one of the students who destroys school reading matter?

Books, magazines, annuals, and newspapers are being destroyed each day in our library. "Annuals" are cut and torn so badly they look like sieves, recipes are being cut from "McCalls" and "Ladies Home Journal" magazines, articles are being cut from daily newspapers and books without the permission of the librarian in charge, pictures of trees were cut from the encyclopedia, pictures were cut out and words marked over in the Winston Simplified Dictionary," said the CHS librarian, Mrs. Nora Gilmore. A 1950 annual on file in Mr. Miller's office had the pages cut in half by some unappreciative individual.

The habit of destroying these properties reflects the character of those participating in such activities, as well as helping others to form bad opinions of our school. Our parents, the taxpayers, are spending more and more on school taxes than ever before to provide the public schools with necessary reading materials. Why cost them more by ruining these things?

We cannot use and enjoy reading books, magazines, papers, and annuals if they are destroyed by careless students.

Selected Members Give Band Recital

Dorothy Cleavinger, Frances Cunningham, Leroy Dickerson, Jerry Martin, Len McKay, and Norris Samuelson were the high school students who took part in the recital given last Wednesday in the high school cafeteria. They were directed by Herman W. Demus, CHS band director.

Beverly Bales, Sharon Scott, Carolyn Glazener, Velma Larson, Martha Maddux, Sylvia Kay, and Martha Cardwell played piano solos. They are students of Mrs. Demus, piano teacher.

Frances Cunningham, accompanied by Nancy Bolton, played "In the Deep Forest" by Geib, on the bass clarinet. The sousaphone was the instrument played by Norris Samuelson. He played "Divertissement" by Wilson. "Andante in C" by Mozart was presented by Dorothy Cleavinger. A cornet trio, composed of Jerry Martin, Len McKay, and Leroy Dickerson, sounded out "Polka Dots" by Buchtel.

Mrs. Demus played the accompanist part for all performers except Frances.

Seniors Chosen For FTA Award

Dorothy Cleavinger and Bob Huddleston, CHS seniors, were chosen as the applicants for the Texas Future Teachers of America Clubs tuition scholarships. They were selected by a committee consisting of faculty members.

Only seniors and members of FTA clubs are eligible for this scholarship. Texas State Teachers Association, through action of the FTA Scholarship Committee, give these scholarships annually to a boy and girl. The scholarship will pay tuition to any state supported institution for four year's training as a teacher.

Winner of the scholarships will be chosen from all the representatives from all the schools with FTA clubs in Texas. The recipients will be named at the annual banquet held in conjunction with the annual state convention of the Texas Future Teachers of America Clubs.

Dorothy is president of the local chapter FTA club. She is a member of the National Honor Society, the science club, basketball, and plays the flute in the band.

Bob is president of the band, in which he plays trombone, is Junior Red Cross representative of the senior class, and is co-chairman of this organization.

When Moe and Shmoe had their adventure with the members of the junior class not so long ago, some of the students were on a termite expedition in the dark undergrowth of Africa guided by Tarzan and his apes.

In spite of their dangers, they all arrived safely back in the U. S. with nothing more than a few mosquito bites to show for their journey. The ten brave heroes, Rae June Cabe, Alan Hawkins, Frances Pennington, Clydeen Mitchell, Mary Bauer, Arlene Johnson, Charles Miller, Lilamoy and Louise Hunter, Ray Reynolds, and Nancy Riley, stepped from the huge steamer, WE-GOT-EM, which carried them across the Atlantic Ocean, and were greeted with the CHS band playing "Don't Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes." Everyone cheered and applauded, and they were presented with bubble gum and lollipops.

All the natives of Africa showed their appreciation of the white "gods" who ridded their country of termites.

Congratulations, termite chasers!

"I, er, uh, think we left the crown in the band house." These were the words that Cal understood Bob Huddleston to say when he started to crown the band queen Thursday evening. It seems as though someone had to run out and get it while the audience waited patiently. Ole' Cal thought that it was rather funny even though I bet it was awful embarrassing.

As Cal was walking nonchalantly down the CHS halls last week he kept noticing the strangest objects hanging down from the back of girl's heads. He couldn't quite figure it out.

These strange objects reminded him of something he had seen before. Had some strange spell been cast on the girls of Canyon High causing them to copy an animal of some kind? Well, Cal hasn't quite figured out yet but those strange objects sure remind him of something he has seen before.

Band Presents First Program

Gun shots echoed through the auditorium as the Canyon High School Band played its rendition of a "whodunit" before an audience estimated at 250 Thursday evening.

The band opened the program with the "New Colonial March," followed by "Carousell," a medley of songs by Rodgers and Hammerstein. "Sunset Soliloquy," a soothing melody, was followed by the cornet trio, Jerry Martin, Len McKay, and Leroy Dickerson, playing "Polka Dots," accompanied by the band.

"Eroica Overture," selected by the band for its spring contest, was next on the program. The ever-popular "Blue Tango" kept ever-popular "Blue Tango" was next. "T. V. Suite," a combination of a 'sagebrush saga,' a 'whodunit,' and a 'hayloft hoedown,' accompanied a vocal trio, consisting of Pat Vandergriff, Jo Ann Mickey, and Dorothy Cleavinger, and ending with a 'Big Name Band' concluded the first part of the band's concert.

"Sweet and Lovely" was provided for the band queen, her attendants, and their escorts, as they appeared in the queen's coronation.

Eagles Outplay Hornets 69-37

In the third conference game of the season, the Canyon Eagles A squad outplayed the Tulsa Hornets A team 69-37 at Tulsa last Tuesday. This game sets the Eagles' season record of conference games at two wins and one loss.

The boys playing for the Eagles are: Lynn Williams, Doyle Bourn, Guy Hamblen, Ed Money, Tom Middleton, Charles Miller, Richard Pruett, A. C. Wimberly, Don McDonald, Arlen Ruthart, and Clifton Newberry.

The B team followed in the same path of the A team and downed Tulsa's B, 66-43. Players responsible for the victory were Joe Dickerson, Don Beck, Billy McBroom, Joe Britt, Raymond Hadcock, David Brandon, Jamie Airhart, Jimmy Golden, Alan Ray Hawkins, Charles Boling, Leroy Burrow, Mitch Murry, and Larry Hungate.

Myers Selected Prince Charming

Tommy Myers, Canyon High School's Personality King, was chosen by secret ballot as Prince Charming of the Future Homemakers of America, and was presented with a gift at the annual Sweetheart Banquet Saturday.

The new sweetheart was given an expansion bracelet with the identification, "Tommy Myers, Prince Charming." Presentation was made by Mrs. Carlene Morton, FHA president.

Since his enrollment in the first grade in Canyon Grade School, Tommy has had an active part in school work. He has played the position of halfback on the football squad for four years; also, he has played basketball one year.

Portrayal of an exciting character in the junior class play, "Cheaper by the Dozen," showed his acting ability. Other than the newly elected Prince Charming and Personality King, Tommy is president of the Future Farmers of America, a member of the Senior Chapter Conducting Team that won first place in Area 1 in 1952, and is vice-president of the senior class.

CHS Planning For School Facilities Continues With Committee Reports

In relation to a new high school building to be built in the near future, a meeting of the committees for planning for school needs was called Tuesday, February 10, in the Canyon High School cafeteria to discuss problems involving estimated census and enrollment to help determine the proper size and architecture suitable for such a building in 1960.

General reports were made by each of three committees which were census and enrollment, projected enrollment, and educational adequacy of curriculum. Each committee is beginning an immediate study of that particular field for which it is responsible.

National Level

A report of school conditions on the national level emphasized a number of significant facts. Included were: the national public school enrollment in 1952 is estimated to be seven per cent above the 1940 figure. By 1960, the enrollment may be expected to rise to a figure 34 per cent higher than in 1940.

National school enrollment began its climb in 1946, when it numbered approximately 23,500,000 pupils. By 1960, the total may be expected to exceed 34,000,000. Junior high schools will feel the impact about 1959. Enrollment in senior high schools, climbing slowly at present, will increase sharply following 1961.

Classrooms

For every six elementary school classroom in use in 1952-53, an additional room or more will be needed. For every 100 pupils in junior high school today, by 1960, 140 may be expected. For every Class favorites of CHS were selected on Friday, February 6. Two favorites, one boy and one girl, are selected from each class. This is an annual affair, and it is quite a privilege to be selected.

To be eligible for class favorite, the student must be passing in all work, must be recognized as a good citizen of the school system and must have been in school here for one year.

Senior Favorite

Bob Hood, senior favorite, has played football in CHS for two years. The first year, on the "B" team; the second year, on the "A" team. He is a member of the FTA. In May of 1952 he won first place in a local fire prevention poster contest. Bob's hobbies are swimming and tennis, and he enjoys collecting stamps and working with small trees and plants.

Grace Sheets, senior favorite, was selected Football Queen attendant of 1952-53. Sweethearts Enjoy Annual Banquet

"I'll See You In My Dreams," the 1953 theme of the annual FHA Sweetheart Banquet, was fully portrayed Saturday evening in the high school cafeteria.

The theme was carried out by the colors pink and silver. The tables were draped in white banquet cloth. Centerpieces of pink carnations in silver heart candles and clouds of pink shot with silver star dust carried out the theme further. The dim light of the candles on the tables showed the twinkling of the pink stars tinged with silver star dust which hung from the ceiling. Clouds of pink and silver floated on the walls.

The invocation by Supt. Joe A. Gibson began the program of the formal affair. Following was a welcome by Carlene Morton, president of the FHA.

Entertainment was presented to carry out the theme, "The Starlighters" sang "I'll See You In My Dreams." An appropriate reading was followed by a quartet singing "My Heart Stood Still."

Bob Izzard of Amarillo was the speaker. He spoke to the group in a gay fashion that also carried out the "Sweetheart" theme.

Highlight of the evening was the revealing of the Prince Charming, Tommy Myers, chosen by the FHA girls at an earlier voting. A gift was presented to the young man and his picture will appear in the high school annual.

Cafeteria ladies prepared the menu of apricot nectar, chicken a la Royal, almond green beans,

Keene Is Elected '53 Band Queen

"I was surprised and am very grateful for being given the high honor of band queen this year," stated Dovie Keene, newly elected band queen of 1953.

Dovie was attended by June Davis and Frances Cunningham, and escorted by Len McKay.

Coming to CHS from WT in 1951, Dovie was recently selected sophomore favorite, and a representative on the band council. She has played cornet in the CHS band, and served on the girl's "A" and "B" basketball squad for two years. As an SFC representative is another of the offices she fills.

Frances Cunningham, a senior, came from WT as a sophomore in 1950, and has been bass clarinetist in the band for the past few years. Frances also serves as band and CCYC secretary, and is a NHS member, FHA member, and is on the annual staff.

June Davis has played alto saxophone in the band for two years, and is a sophomore member in the FHA, as well as the symbol of Faith in the Canyon Rainbow chapter.

June and Frances feel it is an honor to be selected by fellow band members as candidates and attendants for the band queen.

Journalists Enter PHSPA Contest

Members of The Eagle's Tale staff have worked hard and diligently on a service scrapbook containing all stories, cartoons, pictures, and other work which rendered special service to either the school, community or region. The scrapbook has been entered in the Panhandle High School Press Association contest to be held March 7 on the campus of West Texas State College.

The scrapbook is divided into sections pertaining to news stories, editorials, and features. Also included are pictures of the editors and various action shots of school activities. A special section was dedicated to "Letters to the Editors," which were received from students and faculty members in praise of the work done by members of the staff.

Individual contests at the annual PHSPA convention include: parsley potatoes, cherry banana salad, hot rolls, apple pie a la mode, and ice tea. Twenty girls of the eighth grade served the guests.

A prom followed this affair in the silver and pink dream land atmosphere of the high school gymnasium.

nual convention will be conducted in sports, news, features, editorials, general column, and photography. Each student is allowed to enter one story in each of the divisions. Purpose of the contest is to select the outstanding high school journalist in the Panhandle.

Nebraska Woman Calls Hand of Utensil Peddlers

The following experience was related by a Nebraska woman in the Kansas City Drivers Telegram who had to deal with a utensil peddler:

I was much interested in the stainless steel steal, since the agents were also in our community and gave dinners, also tried to sell me. Here a large set sold for $220. Yes, it is always at a relative's or friend's home, who think you should buy to help them get their pressed silver or other cheap prizes.

When the agent came to our house, my son, who is an ex-GI, happened to be here. Well, the agent said that the men folks were not treating their families right and they would have poor health if they didn't buy his ware. When he said that, my temperature rose and I told him I still had a mind of my own and I intended to use it.

In the first place, I would not let anyone whom I don't know and who pays no taxes in my community, use my husband's and my home, on which we pay taxes, to conduct his business in. These shysters use people's homes and friends, and never pay taxes nor furnish their own business places.

In the second place I certainly would not recommend any article which I am doing if I let them conduct their business in my home that I know nothing of.

In the third place, what would you say if your home town merchant, who pays taxes and meets open competition, would say, no, I can sell you only the entire set? How far would your home town merchant get with that?

So now, with me, it is "no," to all steel utensil, brush and cosmetic and every other kind of ware "parties." I am going to my own home town, where honest people try to make a living, and keep up a town.

The stainless steel agent took thousands out of this community. That doesn't help a community much in the long run, especially if the people have let a shyster put it over on them so they get badly stung.

Just Between You, Me and . . . the Gatepost

(By Lawrence Hunnicutt)

According to The Hereford Brand, some of Deaf Smith County's defeated candidates are coming to West Texas State College to bone up on their education. Here's the dope straight from the column, "Around Town," in the February 5th edition of the Brand:

"There is an old saying that you don't have to be dumb to hold a county office—but it helps. Whether this is true or not, the recently vacated Deaf Smith County officials are flocking to college. Robert Thompson, ex-county clerk, enrolled in West Texas State College at mid-term. One of the first fellows he saw on the campus was a former courthouse worker from Hereford, ex-sheriff J. C. Reese, who had also matriculated in WT for the coming term. In addition to Mr. Reese, Mrs. Reese and their son, Jerry, are also attending the same school.

"Also back to school after 16 years absence is Bill Phillips, who resigned as cashier at the Hereford State Bank January 28 to enroll in WTSC. He is working toward his Master's degree in business administration, having taken his bachelor's degree from Texas Tech in 1937."

If you weren't out Wednesday afternoon you probably have already heard about the excitement on the square. Someone spotted a real-honest-to-goodness flying saucer. Everybody got a good look at it and probably were thinking the same thing. You know, little men with pointed ears, pop eyes and web feet. All those distant things that have been heard and read about flying saucers suddenly seemed right at our fingertips. For a few moments you could almost hear rusty imaginations grinding to work again.

Then somebody spoiled the whole thing by throwing a wrench into the creaking gears of the imagination. Somebody took a realistic approach and mentioned the fact that the object might be a weather balloon. Right there the gears of imagination clanked to a halt and the object suddenly took on the appearance of a weather balloon sent out by the weather station. Everyone sighed and went wearily back to work. It could have been so-o-o-o exciting but it fizzled into mere factual nothingness.

Our citizen parade this week beams a great big spotlight on Bill Sternberg. Bill, who is head of Sternberg Lumber Company, attended West Texas State College and Texas A&M.

He came to Canyon in 1926 and has contributed much toward the civic progress of the town and surrounding area. He is a former president of the Chamber of Commerce, holding that position in 1951.

Last year Bill was Fire Chief of the Canyon Volunteer Fire Department. He is a captain in the department this year. Another capacity he is serving in this year is the board of directors of the Lions Club. He is a third vice-president in that organization.

Bill is also a member of the Methodist Church, VFW Club, American Legion, and Canyon City Club. He is a golf enthusiast and has a low score, according to local authorities.

The lumberman is a former director of the Canyon City Club. At present he is a director of the Hoo-Hoo club, a lumbermen's organization.

This week our Chirps of Wisdom department opens with a contribution from Riley Troth, a local businessman. The chirp he showed us was about life. Specifically it was, "We spend the first part of our life making habits that shorten the last part of it."

Some people who claim to be conservative just sit and think but mostly just sit.

A traffic cop waved a speeding motorist to the curb and started writing the ticket.

"I'm sorry," apologized the motorist, "I didn't hear you, you see I'm pretty deaf."

"Oh, that's all right," answered the cop, "the judge will give you a hearing in the morning."

Thursday morning at the Chamber of Commerce Directors' meeting Dutch Cleavinger came in a little late. Muft Myers asked how come and Dutch replied:

"Well, there was a customer knocking on your door and couldn't get in, so I had to stop long enough to sell him what he needed."

A belated chirp that was good a few weeks ago concerns Charles E. Wilson, Defense Secretary. The saying is that Congress accepted him lock and barrel, he had to get rid of the stock, General Motors, that is.

Patrick, Austin Named By ROTC "Distinguished Military Students"

Two cadets in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit here at WT have been named "Distinguished Military Students," Lt. Col. Raymond H. Lumry, professor of military science and tactics, has announced.

Honored were Le Moin Patrick, junior from Borger, and Eddie W. Austin, senior from Plainview, who already are Cadet Lieutenant Colonel and Cadet Major, respectively. Both are enrolled as first year advanced students.

The two were selected by a committee composed of Col. Lumry, Major Charles W. Allen, Jr., and Dr. Lowell Harrison, associate professor of government.

Students with high efficiency ratings in ROTC and who maintain sound scholastic records during their junior year, or third year of ROTC, are designated "Distinguished Military Students." Should these men retain their high records, upon graduation they are then designated "Distinguished Military Graduates."

Distinguished military graduates are usually, unless quotas are already filled, tendered a regular Army commission, comparable to that given to graduates of the United States Military Academy at West Point. The Army is now obtaining about 1200 officers a year, to supplement West Point graduates, through the "Distinguished Military Graduate" plan.

FIRE LOSSES

Fires over the nation damaged or destroyed an estimated $784,953,000 worth of property last year, or $53,548,000 more than in 1951, and $96,493,000 more than in 1950. Fire losses have increased 3.3 times since 1935, when they amounted to $235,000,000.

BOYCE HOUSE

A battle was once fought just to try out some new revolvers.

Back in the days of the Texas Republic, the Rangers had single-shot pistols. The Republic had bought some new-fashioned Colt revolvers for the Navy but the weapons were in storage. Capt. Jack Hays of the Rangers heard about them—they were five-shooters, 34-caliber. He obtained a supply and armed 15 of his Rangers with one or more and rode up the Pedernales River east of Fredericksburg and set fire to the prairie, to try to draw the Indians out so he could try out the new weapons. When they reached Cista Creek between Sisterdale and Comfort, a scout reported the Indians were following them. They turned back and saw two Indians, who tried to entice them into a trap, but Jack Hays knew Indians. The Rangers dismounted and went into the brush on foot and drove the Indians out. The Indians then lined up and challenged them to a fight in the open.

They had five times his number but his men were spoiling for a fight and wanted to try out their new revolvers. He had his men discard their rifles hoping to draw the Indians in closer as they would think the Rangers were only armed with one-load pistols. They advanced on the Indians who retreated to a flat-topped hill, that had very steep sides.

Hays pretended to charge the hill, where the Indians were dismounted ready for him with their horses in the rear.
